

Freedom PA Celebrates 5 Years of Operation

"I had been thinking of how best to offer my skills to more people and, by February 2009, I had set up Freedom Personal Assistants (FPA), offering full secretarial and admin services to individuals and businesses", recounted Michella Samy, Now in its 5th year, she said that she's never looked back.

FPA offers assistance for long or short term contracts, one-off projects and even for a single hour. "I usually visit clients, but having the virtual service is a great addition, as I'm able to assist those who are further afield or don't have office space," she told Comment.

"Whether it's simple filing or typing a letter/CV to powerpoint presentations, marketing or desktop publishing, event or party planning, I can help with all your office needs."

With 30 years experience gained in the corporate world, from legal and banking firms to management consultancy, the music industry and medical profession, Michella has brought these skills to Highland Perthshire.

"I have a diverse array of clients who are grateful to have such a flexible resource on their doorstep. It gives them time to devote to the things they want/need to do, knowing it's dealt with in a professional and confidential manner, and I get a great deal of satisfaction in assisting them and, let's face it, who couldn't ask for a more beautiful place in which to work?"
